Dr. Tutt: Dear Sir—During this year I treated nine hundred cases of lung diseases. In the lower wards of the city the cases were of a very savere type. It was there my attention was called to Tutt's Expectorant, and I confess my surprise at its wonderful power. During a practice of twenty years I have never known a medicine to act as premptly and with such nappy coincident as promptly and with such happy orders. It instantly subdued the most violen his of coughing, and invarisbly cured the disease in a lew days. I cheerfully endorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.

True History of the Ross Hamilton Substitute.

RICHMOND, VA., Maich 2, 1880. To the editors of the Richmond Dispatch.

As I am about leaving this city for my home, in Northampton county, I think it but just to myself and others to state my connection with the Hamilton debt bill. I had been informed that it was the carnest desire on the part of nearly all the enlored republican members of the Legislature to present a proposition for the settlement or readjustment of the public debt of Virginia that would be acceptable to the people and just to the bondholders. The outcome of this orcen expressed wish was the Hamilton bill. The following colored republicans met time and again-I should say six times or oftener-and enthusiastically agreed upon the above measure, and unanimously requested the Hon. Kess Hamilton to not for them in representing their views in presenting this bill in the Heuse of Palegates as the republican plan of readjustment or sattlement of the vexed debt quescion. The members above alluded to are Hon. Robert Norton, House of Delegates, Yerk Co., Va; Hen. E. D. Bland, House of Delegates, Prices George Co., Va.; Hen. Geo. Cole, Essex Co., Va.; Hon. Littleton Owens, Pricess Anne Co., Va.; Hen. W. D. Evans, Prices Edward Co., Va.; Hon. Johnson Collins, Brunswick Co., Vs.; Hon, Archer Scott, Not-towny Co., Va.; Hon, R ss Hamilton, Meckleaburg Co., Va. Mr. Paige, of Norfolk ocusty, understanding the principal features of the full, emphatically endorsed it; but owing to the illness of his enid could not be present personally, but sont frequent messages by the Hon. Littleton Owens and others that he was in hearty second with them; and furthermore, stated in my presected to Her. Ross Hamilton that he fully endorsed the bill and would not more cordially with the other Republicans in favoring it. Senator D.M. Norton, at a meeting to which General W. C. Wekham had been invited to explain the details of the bill, heartily endorsed the whole measure, and advised his colleagues to stand

The bill appeared to be an emiscally fair one, honorable aske to the State and boudholders. No compromise can be a just one to which all concerned are not consenting parties. This being my view, I entered herrily and end ally into the contest, feeling that the adoption of such a measure, emanating from Republicans, and part calarly colored Republicans, would be a crown of glery to them, and a suffect of pride in the future, and advised them to give it their warm support. The salient features of the bill are, reducing the interest on the bonds to 3 per cent., running forty years, and making the coupons non rec ivable for school tax. The former provision wou'd have saved the State $13,-000,00 in forty years, and commended itself to thor a justers as being almost identical with the plan proposed by Gen. Mahone, and which was the platform upon which the Readjusters had been elected to the Legislature. The latter made the bill peculiarly acceptable to colored republicans, as it made the public free schools safe beyond any peradventure-the school tax being payable in each money. And being maintained as a separate and distinct fund from any other, relieved me from any apprehension of its being misappropriated by any quasi legal construction of the constitution and laws.

their repeated assurances of approbation of this bill, and after frequent pledges to each other in their numerous caucuses on the subject, and their promises to others, is a matter that I leave altogether with what they deem to be their duty to the Commonwealth and to their constituents. I have given the above fac's as they occurred, and to which I make affidavit, feeling that this is, to a certain extent, a matter of the history of our State, which should be theroughly understood by the people both now and hereafter.

going writing are true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Given under my hand and official scal this 21 day of March, 1880. T. ATKINSON, N. P. (Signed.)

Carter, not in justification of my course, because that is a matter with my own conscience and sense of public duty, but to let the people of the State, and more particularly those of my own rece, know, to as public manner as possible, that I noted with the advice and with the cooperation of my colleagues of my own race and party in presenting to the House of Delegates the bill known as the Hamilton bill; that it not only expressed my own but their sentiments as well, nor did they even do me the justice or extend to me the courtesy, after changing their views, to again meet in caucus, and make known that I fully believe the provisions of the bill are in accord with the platform of principles of the first and only Readjuesters' Convention that ever met in this State-viz , the one at Mczart cent, interest, practically the same as presented terest on the whole amount of the funded debt luoning forty years General W. C. Wickham and Col. William Townes will cheerfully confirm nearly all that is material in the above statement.
